Explore Gorkhi-Terelj National Park

Date: Throughout the year

Price: Starts from $120

Trip Summary

Embark on an unforgettable adventure to Terelj National Park, where the Tuul and Terelj rivers gracefully meet. This spectacular landscape features dramatic valleys, ancient rock formations sculpted over millions of years, and a rich tapestry of plant life. Explore the wilderness on horseback, hike through untouched trails, and experience the warmth of traditional ger camps—all while immersing yourself in the unspoiled beauty of Mongolia.

Itinerary

After meeting your guide and driver in the hotel lobby, set off for the scenic Terelj National Park. Your adventure begins with a visit to the iconic Turtle Rock, followed by the serene Ariyabal Meditation Temple, where a short hike rewards you with sweeping views of the surrounding landscape. Continue to a traditional ger camp nestled deep within the park. After a hearty lunch, saddle up for a peaceful horseback ride along the picturesque Terelj River.

Before returning to Ulaanbaatar in the late afternoon, you'll visit a local herder family for an authentic glimpse into Mongolia's nomadic lifestyle. (L)

Mongolian Cashmere Experience

Date: April to June

Price: Starts from $130

Trip Summary

Mongolia is the world's second-largest producer of cashmere, a soft, fine fiber collected from beneath the belly hair of goats. For nomadic herders, cashmere is both a vital income source and a cherished tradition. Each spring, they gently comb the fiber, then sell it to factories where it's transformed into luxurious garments. This exclusive tour offers a rare look at the full journey—from pasture to product. Visit a herder family outside Ulaanbaatar, then tour the Gobi Cashmere Factory, the city's first and largest of its kind.

Itinerary

In the morning, meet your guide and head to the Mongolian countryside to visit a nomadic family who raises goats and sheep. Discover their age-old lifestyle and learn how cashmere is traditionally collected from their animals. Enjoy a home-cooked Mongolian lunch with the family before returning to Ulaanbaatar. In the afternoon, tour the Gobi Cashmere Factory to see how raw fiber is transformed into luxurious garments, followed by a visit to the factory outlet for shopping.

Souvenirs:

Like any other places, Mongolia offers great souvenirs ranging from camel wool sweaters to cashmere scarves and traditional wooden puzzle games. Mongolian vodkas can be an excellent gift. At several stores, you can also find a range of traditional Mongolian musical instruments such as the famed Morin Khuur or "horse headed fiddle." Bargaining is not very customary; most items are sold for the price on their labels. If you plan to shop for souvenirs, we recommend purchasing locally as many items as possible since your purchases will be a direct contribution to the local community.

Travel insurance:

With Mongolia stretching over 1.5 million square kilometers and its population concentrated in the cities, we will be traveling through some remote areas away from good roads and medical facilities. We strongly recommend that you consider getting standard emergency medical evacuation insurance as a means to protect yourself from unexpected accidents that can happen during any trip. Nothing is better than traveling with peace of mind knowing that you have prepared for the trip as much as possible in advance.

Traveling with Mongolia Quest:

Because it is still a developing country, traveling in Mongolia requires a sense of humor and patience. New roads and bridges are being built every year, but the paved road system is still limited in the countryside. You may experience flight delays and find road conditions bumpy and dusty. But the experience of traveling in Mongolia will far exceed some personal compromises in comfort. We like to say that the best part of traveling in Mongolia is spontaneous events and interactions, which lead to unexpected interactions, discoveries, and experiences that will make your trip unique and memorable. At Mongolia Quest, we ensure the integrity of your overall itinerary but at the same time, will go out of our way to make necessary changes in order to enrich your travel experience with us.
